A. EXPLANATORY NOTES PURSUANT TO MALAYSIAN FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS 134: INTERIM FINANCIAL REPORTING

A1. Basis of preparation

The interim financial report of Stratus Global and its subsidiaries (the "Group") is unaudited and has been prepared in accordance with the requirements of Malaysian Financial Reporting Standards ("MFRS") 134 Interim Financial Reporting issued by the Malaysian Accounting Standards Board ("MASB") and Paragraph 9.22 and Appendix 9B of the Listing Requirements.

This is the first interim financial report of Stratus Global on the Group's unaudited condensed financial results for the first quarter ended 30 June 2026 announced by the Company in compliance with the Listing Requirements and as such, there are no comparative figures for the corresponding period of preceding year.

The interim financial report should be read in conjunction with the Accountants' Report as disclosed in the Prospectus and the accompanying explanatory notes attached to this interim financial report.

A2. Significant accounting policies

The significant accounting policies and methods of computation adopted by the Group in this interim financial report are consistent with those adopted in preparation of the Accountants' Report as disclosed in the Prospectus.

The following are accounting standards and amendments of the MFRS Accounting Standards that have been issued by the MASB but have not been adopted by the Group:-

		Effective for financial periods beginning on or after

A. EXPLANATORY NOTES PURSUANT TO MALAYSIAN FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS 134: INTERIM FINANCIAL REPORTING (CONT'D)

A3. Auditors' report of preceding annual financial statements

The audited consolidated financial statements of the Group for the financial year ended 31 March 2026 ("FYE 2026") were not subject to any qualification.

A4. Seasonal or cyclical factors

The business operations of the Group were not materially affected by any seasonal or cyclical factors during the current financial quarter and year-to-date under review, as demand for its solutions is primarily driven by customers' capital expenditure decisions, project implementation schedules and prevailing economic conditions within the semiconductor industry, rather than seasonal fluctuations.

However, due to the project-based nature of the Group's business and the timing of project completion and customer acceptance, the Group's financial performance may fluctuate materially between financial periods. As the Group's revenue is recognised at specific points in time, with the remaining portion recognised only upon the completion of installation, commissioning and customer acceptance, a substantial project pipeline or significant work in progress may not translate into revenue or profitability within the same financial period, whilst project-related costs continue to be incurred.

Accordingly, the Group's quarterly financial performance may fluctuate and should not be viewed in isolation, as it may not necessarily be indicative of the Group's annual financial performance. Please refer to the Prospectus for further details on the Group's business model, risks, and the significant factors that may affect the financial performance of the Group.

A5. Extraordinary and exceptional items

There were no extraordinary and exceptional items of unusual nature affecting assets, liabilities, equity, net income, or cash flows during the current financial quarter under review.

A6. Changes in estimates of amounts reported previously

B. EXPLANATORY NOTES PURSUANT TO PART A OF APPENDIX 9B OF THE LISTING REQUIREMENTS (CONT'D)

B3. Prospects of the Group

As disclosed in the Prospectus, the outlook and prospects of the global semiconductor industry remains positive, primarily driven by the significant economic contribution to most regions around the world, with significant linkages to the global electrical and electronic ("E&E") industry as semiconductors are essential components of electronic devices. From 2022 to 2024, global semiconductor sales increased at a compound annual growth rate of 4.80%. Over the same period, the global semiconductor AMHS industry size expanded at a CAGR of 7.42%.

The growth of the semiconductor AMHS industry is correlated to the growth of the semiconductor industry, as the demand for semiconductor products reflects the market for semiconductor engineering support services, including semiconductor AMHS. As such, the demand for semiconductor AMHS is expected to be driven by the key drivers of the semiconductor industry, which includes the increasing global demand for E&E and rapid technological advancements in E&E products, and the rising prevalence of generative artificial intelligence (AI), which spurs demand for data centres, E&E devices and semiconductors. This is further supported by the ongoing approved investments and government initiatives to drive digitalisation.

In addition to the abovementioned key drivers, the semiconductor AMHS industry is also driven by the need for automation as semiconductor manufacturing companies increasingly seek to automate their production processes to maximise production capacity and enhance throughput. Moreover, semiconductor AMHS has the capability to efficiently adjust to changes in production processes as semiconductor AMHS operates using software that can be programmed according to production requirements, enabling it to adapt to rapid technological advancements in E&E products.

In view of the above, the management is optimistic that the Group's planned utilisation of IPO proceeds towards its strategic business expansion plans (which include, the expansion of the Group's facility, overseas business expansion through the establishment of sales and engineering support offices in Asia, Europe and the USA as well as to strengthen the Group's research and development capabilities) will enable the Group to capitalise on the growth opportunities within the semiconductor AMHS industry and will contribute positively to its growth and financial performance in the medium to long-term.
