8.0 Anonymous Reports

- 8.1 Given that the anonymity of the whistleblower will be preserved, anonymous reports generally will not be entertained to prevent vexatious and frivolous allegations. The investigation into allegations made anonymously is expected to be tedious and difficult as the Group is not able to obtain additional information from the person making the report.
- 8.2 Reports may also be made based on incomplete and inaccurate information. Under such circumstances, the Group may meet with the person or persons making the report to clear up any misconception or misunderstanding. With anonymous reports, this will not be possible; and the inability of the Group to provide feedback and rectify misconceptions may be misconstrued.
- 8.3 However, the Group reserves the right to investigate anonymous whistleblowing reports depending on the nature and gravity of the allegations in the report.
- 8.4 While anonymity may limit investigation, the Group will still review all anonymous reports to determine if investigation is warranted based on the gravity and credibility of the information.
